Project title (14 pt, bold, centered)

Name, affiliation (12 pt, right aligned)

Main text (12 pt, fully justified): For the field of Promotion of Collaborative or Multidisciplinary Research, please submit a two-page report. For all other categories (Field-specific Research, Proposal–based Research, and Facilities and Equipment Use), please submit a one-page report.

Although the report does not have a specific format requirement, please mention your partner ICR researcher in the main text instead of listing as a co-author of the report. The paper size, line spacing, and other formatting specifications should be the same as this form. Each A4 sheet can accommodate approximately 1,000 words. Figures and tables may be in color, but the report can be published in black and white.

For an experimental project, we suggest preparing your report with the following sections: objectives, experimental methods, experimental results, discussion, and publications (papers, presentations, etc.). For a theoretical project, we suggest the following sections: objectives, structure of theory, theoretical results, discussion, and outcome reports (papers, presentations, etc.).

If you organized workshops or meetings as a part of a Promotion of Collaborative and Multidisciplinary Research project, please summarize the contents by appropriate items. Additionally, attach a program, a list of participants (with affiliations, organizations, and titles), and a summary or proceedings (if any) of such workshops or meetings to your research report.

If your project is an international collaboration, please prepare your report in English as much as possible. The contact information sheet on the next page should be attached to your report.
