I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Professor Ono and his research group at Uji University in Kyoto for their kind hospitality and for welcoming me during my research stay through the exchange program.

The purpose of my visit was to attend the Spin Mechanics 9 conference that took place in Kyoto and to meet with our collaborator Assistant-Professor Ryusuke Hisatomi, learn more about his research activities, and gain insight into the work carried out in his laboratory. The visit provided an excellent opportunity to exchange ideas, strengthen our collaboration, and gain a deeper understanding of the ongoing research in the group.

I am particularly grateful for the valuable and fruitful discussions we had throughout the visit. The presentations shared by the group members were highly insightful and offered new perspectives on their research, methods, and findings. These exchanges were both informative and inspiring, and I believe they will contribute positively to our future collaboration.

Beyond the academic activities, I also greatly appreciated the opportunity to experience Japanese hospitality during a lovely evening at a traditional Japanese restaurant. This pleasant gathering provided a wonderful opportunity to continue our conversations in a relaxed atmosphere and to learn more about Japanese culture.

I would like to extend my special thanks to Professor Ono, Ms. Tanaka, and Assistant Professor Hisatomi for their time, support, warm welcome, and generous hospitality. Their efforts made my visit both productive and enjoyable.

Overall, the four-day research stay was a valuable and rewarding experience. I am very grateful for the opportunity to visit the group, exchange knowledge, and strengthen our scientific collaboration. I sincerely hope that this visit will serve as a foundation for continued cooperation and further fruitful research in the future.

Thank you once again to everyone who contributed to making this visit such a memorable and successful experience.
